1. This is an application for grant of anticipatory bail. The applicant is shown as an accused in C.R.No.340/2006 registered by the Kothrud police station for alleged offence under Section 376 of IPC. The Complainant Kaveri is major aged 27 years. She states in the FIR that she had a love affair with the present applicant but in the year 2004 she got married with another person by name Anuj Sharma. Anuj Sharma had a suspision that she had love affair with the present applicant and therefore, there is a divorce between them. It is the case that after the year 2004 the present applicant used to meet her and since he was her friend from her childhood, when he asked her to marry with him, she consented. The applicant has brought her to the Pune and kept in a rental premises and was telling her that he would marry her. He had intercourse with her. Parents of the applicant came there and told the complainant that the applicant would not marry with her. It is in such circumstances, after staying in Pune with the applicant, the complaint was filed on 7.6.2006. Since the complainant is a married lady, the medical report indicates that she was habitual to intercourse and since the investigation is virtually completed, I am inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the present applicant. It is therefore, directed that in the event of his arrest in connection with C.R.No.340/2006 registered by the Kothrud police station, Pune, the applicant may be released on bail in the sum of Rs.15,000/- with one surety in the like amount subject to the condition that he will report to the investigating officer once a week on every Monday till the charge-sheet is filed and thereafter on every first Monday of the month till the disposal of the trial. Application stands disposed off.
